FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Eurora Group becomes a part of Movement Software, strengthening its Transportation & Logistics offering.

Stronger together: the UK transport software specialist behind Cyrus TMS joins one of Northern Europe's fastest-growing niche B2B software groups, retaining its brand, team and products while gaining the infrastructure and expertise of a software group of 20+ companies with a dedicated focus on Transportation & Logistics.

Manchester, UK / Gothenburg, Sweden – August 24, 2026 – Movement Software, the Northern European group of more than 20 niche software companies across Transportation & Logistics, Vehicle Digital Solutions and Public Mobility, today announces the acquisition of Eurora Group, the UK transport and logistics software specialist behind Cyrus TMS. The acquisition strengthens Movement's Transportation & Logistics vertical and adds a leading transport management platform to the group.

Eurora Group provides innovative cloud-based software that keeps fleets and freight moving. Its flagship platform, Cyrus TMS, gives transport teams and distribution operators strong client integration capabilities for job entry, proactive planning tools, real-time visibility, a best-in-class driver ePOD application and customer portals. The company is known for its intuitive software, its pragmatic approach to projects and its industry-leading customer service.

The fit is clear. A transport management system sits at the operational heart of moving goods, connecting naturally with the route-optimisation, address and geodata, and compliance tools already inside Movement's group – the ingredients for immediate, practical synergies rather than a distant roadmap. For Movement, it is a core acquisition. Eurora Group will continue to operate with its existing brand, team and products, while gaining access to the wider expertise, resources and investment of Movement Software. For Cyrus TMS customers, this means continuity in the people and support they know, alongside greater capacity to invest in product development and bring new capabilities to market.

Stronger together – building more, delivering faster.

“Eurora Group is a great fit with Movement Software. Cyrus TMS sits right at the operational heart of Transportation & Logistics, and it slots straight into the platform we've built. The synergies are immediate – and together we can build more and deliver faster than either of us could alone. The future together with Eurora Group has the potential for great collaboration and results.”

Björn Erlandsson – Head of Transportation & Logistics and COO of Movement Software

“Joining Movement Software gives us a real opportunity to do more for our customers. Our customers keep everything they value – the same team, the same products, the same service – and we gain the investment, expertise and shared platforms of the wider Movement group. That is the power of this collaboration. It will allow us to build and deliver faster with partners who truly know this industry. We are genuinely stronger together.”

Nicholas Rogers – Managing Director, Eurora Group
